

Ultimate Wedding Week To-Do List

You can complete many of these before the wedding week, so get an early start!

- Put together a bag or box with what should be placed on each table: table number/name, place cards (in order), table plan, menus, favors, decorations, party games/entertainment. Drop them off at the venue.
- Pick up your marriage license (apply for it weeks in advance)
- Pick up your dress and the tux rentals
- Pack your honeymoon bag (don't forget your booking confirmations and passports!)
- Create a plan to ensure that you and the groom and both of your bags are all in the same place at the end of the night.
- Confirm day-of timeline with hair and makeup artists
- Share the day-of-timeline with bridesmaids, family members, photographer/videographer (for getting-ready shots)
- If you're doing your own hair or makeup, practice one more time
- Create a plan for your wedding dress after the reception. Who will take it and store it in a safe place until you return?
- Delegate a point person for each vendor / Give point person contact info to each vendor
- Reconfirm arrival times with vendors
- Send final guest list to caterer and venues
- Delegate small wedding-day tasks (bustle dress, carry things, snacks, person to hand out final payments and tips in envelopes)
- Send checklist of must-have shots to the photographer/videographer
- Schedule a spa treatment for yourself (a stress-relieving massage is a must!)
- Build your own bridal emergency kit, or create a list and send it to your MOH (Include your favorite healthy snacks or foods to encourage you to stay fed despite the nerves on the big day)
- Check weather, and if needed, contact vendors to be sure a contingency plan is in place
- Assign someone to pack up your gifts/belongings after the reception, including the top tier of cake! (Be sure to have them cut it into pieces, wrap individually in freezer paper, and freeze)
- If tuxes are rented, assign someone to return them the day after the wedding
- Wrap/finish wedding party gifts for night of rehearsal
- Go to bed as early as you can each night of the week so you are well-rested on the weekend!
- Eat well and drink plenty of water
- Check that you have ceremony plan, vows, and reception details in order
